DMO Plan Narrative

---

1. Describe Your Destination

Describe your destination (who you are, who you wish to attract and why they would come) addressing your strengths, opportunities, and potential challenges.

1. BOZEMAN AS A DESTINATION

Bozeman, Montana, surrounded by six stunning mountain ranges, four significant rivers, two entrances to Yellowstone National Park, and two major ski areas, is a beacon for those who love the outdoors. With recent growth bringing additional restaurants, air service, and live entertainment, this traditionally quiet mountain town now rivals urban areas for cultural entertainment.

Traditionally, Bozeman has held steady but stable growth numbers over the years and has been able to absorb the growth in an ongoing and reasonable manner. However, with the onset of COVID-19, the exodus of people from cities, and increased abilities for remote work, Bozeman is experiencing some growing pains.

In her annual State of the City address, Mayor Cyndy Andrus remarked, "The city has seen aspects of the 'best and worst of times.'" "Our economy is strong with solid growth and prosperity in tourism, construction, real estate, health care, and technology," Andrus said. "Yet we have people living on the streets, a persistent worker shortage, and crushing housing costs."

Bed tax dollars continue to rise, partially fueled by the popularity of the hit TV show Yellowstone, generating new interest in the area. 2022 numbers came in at $5,303,587, a 19% increase over the record-breaking 2021 numbers and an 84% increase over the pre-pandemic numbers of 2019 which totaled $2,877,820. A report by the University of Montana estimates that the 2.1 million visitors to Montana in 2021 whose decision to visit resulted from the show, spending $730.1 million in the state last year. (ITRR: Assessing the Impact of the Yellowstone TV Series on Montana's Tourism Economy, January 2023.)

Bozeman Yellowstone International Airport now has twenty-one non-stop flights to major cities nationwide. 2,264,424 passengers came through the Bozeman airport in 2022, up 16.7% from 2021 and 44% compared to 2019. (Bozeman Yellowstone International Press Release, January 10, 2023.) The addition of Southwest Airlines in 2021 continues to bring people from the surrounding region to fly from Bozeman. In 2022, the airport increased its paid parking spots by 1,600, which have already been filled due to more people flying out of Bozeman. (The Airline industry serving BZN, still views Bozeman as being 500-700 hotel rooms short to consider expanding their service.)

For the sixth year in a row, Bozeman has ranked number one for having the strongest local micropolitan economy in the nation. (Polycom Corporation, 2023 Economic Strength Ratings.) And with the current population exceeding 50,000 residents, Bozeman can now create an Urban Transportation District, which would qualify us for federal funds for our public transportation system, Streamline, and Galavan.

Montana State University predicts another year of record growth, and Gallatin College has sold out all 1200 spots for the spring quarter. Talks are underway to garner funding to expand the hospitality program.

There were 627 new business licenses in 2022, 1900 residential building permits, and 756 commercial building permits totaling $305 million. This unprecedented growth has created challenges in our economy. A lack of affordable workforce housing and childcare has created a shortage in our overall workforce, putting strain on business owners.

Executive Director of Downtown Bozeman Ellie Staley says, "We had the busiest summer ever in 2021, the busiest on record, but it was probably the most challenging time for business owners." Massive staffing challenges have left many business owners working double time or reducing operating hours, and some still need help to get saleable goods.

Another complicated challenge facing Bozeman is the cost of doing business has risen. With a higher cost of living than competing markets, combined with national inflation of 6% - 8% and as all businesses have to do, these increased costs are passed on to those staying overnight in Bozeman and Gallatin County. There is a perception that the Bozeman Average Daily Rates have outpaced other major markets in MT. This perception seems to have led to a downturn in in-state visitation, with a significant drop in state high school tournaments, a major contributor to the local economy during shoulder seasons. As a result, the Bozeman Area Chamber of Commerce and the Tourism Business Improvement District are working closely with hotel owners and managers to develop an opt-in to participate in room guarantees for playoff games and Montana High School Association Tournaments, similar to airline seat guarantees. If the model is successful, it could also be expanded to other times of the year.

For many years, Bozeman remained impervious to the national economy, but with increased inflation, we are starting to see the dynamics shift. Destination Analysts report in their State of the American Traveler, 2023, that 53.6% of respondents fear a recession in the next six months. And in the past six months, gas, airfare, and personal financial reasons have kept respondents from traveling.

Additional hotel rooms are slated to come online in 2023 (Courtyard by Marriot on Baxter Lane and EVEN Hotel at the Airport Plaza in Belgrade), hopefully leading to some rate correction in the market. However, resident sentiment in the Bozeman area and statewide attitudes toward Bozeman are declining, contributing to our decline in in-state visitation.

Conversely, the increase in people moving to Bozeman has positively affected visitation, with 31% of visitors in 2022 coming to visit friends or family. (ITRR, Nonresident Visitor Spending, 2022.)

Our 2022 DMO research on resident sentiment conducted by Destination Analysts measured residents' current opinions on tourism and found that higher housing prices, plus increased crowds, and traffic, drive in-state travel costs up for residents, and tourists don't treat Bozeman or Montana with respect. But positively, they found that the growth creates new dining, entertainment, and shopping opportunities and helps support festivals, arts and cultural experiences, and sporting events.

Additional pressure on our outdoor recreation areas and service industries has led to a partnership with local stakeholders to implement an "Outside Kind" campaign, aiming to educate residents and visitors on how to enjoy the outdoors while sharing it with others and treading lightly on our natural resources.

With the increased number of direct flight markets, Bozeman DMO took a broader approach to our marketing in FY23, whereas in the past years, we have been very specific about our targets. Q4 numbers in 2022 showed a slowdown in some of these target markets, specifically Los Angeles and San Francisco, which have traditionally been strong. In their 2023 Destination Marketing Predictions, Madden Media advises DMOs to leverage visitation data to identify top-origin markets and which target markets deliver the longest average stay. This, coupled with ITRR's research findings that 100% of Bozeman's visitors surveyed plan to return within the next two years, tells us that identifying our top tiers of markets will be especially important in FY24, considering both the economy and the loyalty of our visitors.

Visitor Characteristics:

The 2022 ITRR Quarterly Nonresident Visitation Study outlines the visitor characteristics of Gallatin County:

- 9% first-time visitors, 80% repeat visitors, and 100% plan to return within two years.
- 51% said their primary reason for the trip was vacation, 31% visited friends or family, and 11% were here for business, a convention, or meetings.

- If on vacation, they were attracted to Montana for Glacier National Park, mountains/forests, skiing/snowboarding, open space, uncrowded areas, family/friends, special events, wildlife, camping, Yellowstone National Park, and hunting.
- Top activities include scenic driving, day hiking, visiting a local brewery, recreational shopping, car/RV camping, wildlife watching, nature photography, visiting other historical sites, fishing/fly fishing, and skiing/snowboarding.
- Top states of residency: WA, CA, WI, IN, ND, CO, AZ, OR, UT, NY, OH
- Average age 58, median age 63, slightly older than the previous year.
- 62% have a household income over $100,000, with 29% making $200K or greater.
- 51% drove to Bozeman, 37% arrived by air, 11% by RV, and 1% by train.
- 48% of the groups were made up of 2 travelers. Top groups were 37% couples, 24% immediate family, and 31% self.

Expenditures:

In 2021, nonresident expenditures for Gallatin County totaled $1,034,231,000. (ITRR 2021 Nonresident Travel Survey) Of this, the largest percentage was spent on restaurants and bars, followed by gas/diesel, hotel/motel, outfitters and guides, auto repair/rental, groceries and snacks, and retail.

BOZEMAN'S STRENGTHS

- Proximity to Yellowstone National Park. 3,290,242 visitors went through Yellowstone in 2022. This is down 32% from 2021, the busiest on record. The north entrance to Yellowstone is near Bozeman and was closed to the public due to the historic floods during the busy summer months. The northeast entrance was also closed, and perceived impressions that Yellowstone was closed contributed to the decline.
- World-class skiing at Bridger Bowl and Big Sky Resort.
- Ease of access: 21 non-stop destinations, nine airline carriers, and I-90 access.
- A vast amount of outdoor recreation. Destination Analysts DMO Website Importance Study, January 2020, found that 66.7% of Bozeman CVB website visitors searched for Outdoor Recreational Activities.
- A vibrant college town with a strong economy.
- High-quality museums: Museum of the Rockies, Gallatin History Museum, American Computer and Robotics Museum, Bozeman Art Museum.
- Several State Parks and Historic Sites are within driving distance: Missouri Headwaters State Park, Madison Buffalo Jump, Virginia, and Nevada Cities, and Lewis and Clark Caverns.
- Growing Nordic Skiing opportunities: Crosscut Mountain Sports Center and Bridger Ski Foundation provide multiple groomed trails.
- Montana State University
- Community partnerships between the Bozeman CVB, Yellowstone Country, Visit Big Sky, Big Sky Resort, Yellowstone Club, Montana State University, Gallatin Valley TBID, and the Bozeman Area Chamber of Commerce are working to increase both tourism and business development.

OPPORTUNITIES

- Increased partnerships, local events, programs, and PR opportunities to combat the negative perception around the state of Montana that Bozeman is "too expensive."
- Spillover from Yellowstone brings people to the Bozeman area.
- Spring and summer are good for in-state visitation.
- Bozeman Yellowstone International is becoming a regional airport.
- Residual travel potential from friends and family visiting the growing population. 31% of visitors came to visit friends or family in 2022. (ITRR Nonresident Visitors Study, 2022)
- Pent-up demand for international travel.
- Talks are underway to advance the Hospitality and Culinary Programs at Montana State University and Gallatin College.
- Possible hotel training center through MSU in the future.

- Increased visitation from regional and drive markets.
- Opportunity to increase winter visitation. During the 2021-2022 ski season, skier visits to Bridger Bowl totaled 288,810. (ITRR Interactive Data, Skier Visits, 2022)
- Repeat visitors. In 2022, 80% of visitors were repeat, and 100% of visitors planned to return within two years. (ITRR Nonresident Visitors Study, 2022)
- Destination meetings. Bozeman is a sought-after meeting location, and increased air service opens up new markets.
- Impact of Southwest Airlines. Airport data shows a lot of overnight parking, indicating residents and regional neighbors are flying from Bozeman.
- Economic development partnerships for tourism events.
- Bozeman is becoming a hub for live music and entertainment, with multiple shows of all sizes occurring weekly at the ELM, Rialto, Brick Breeden Fieldhouse, Ellen Theatre, Last Best Comedy, and Gallatin County Fairgrounds.

POTENTIAL CHALLENGES

- Declines in in-state visitation and out of state visitation.
- Bozeman is gaining a negative perception in-state as being “too expensive”.
- Economic concerns of visitors. Bozeman hotel prices, gas prices, and rising inflation, in general, are leading to concerns over travel, particularly for lower-income travelers. (Destination Analysts: State of the American Traveler 2023).
- Remote work has cut into business travel. Business is slowly coming back but at a lower ADR.
- Short-term rentals are cutting into market share, with more hotels coming on board.
- Hotels are running at 80% capacity with high ADRs. New inventory may cause the market to correct itself.
- Tournament loss will impact hotels and businesses in off-season times.
- Workforce challenges, such as housing, childcare, and transportation, led to a lack of staff and decreased hours of operation for local businesses.
- Difficult to attract sports tournaments with the perception that Bozeman rates are higher than other cities that host these tournaments; these tournaments are a significant economic boost during shoulder seasons.
- Congestion in Yellowstone National Park during the summer months.
- Growing local sentiment resisting increased visitation and population growth.
- Maintaining infrastructure with increased pressure.
- Significant weather events, including poor snow, bitter temperature, poor road conditions, increased wildfires, or water restrictions.
- Lack of larger meeting spaces.
- AI travel planning.

Based on the strategic role you serve, provide the following information.

3a. Define your audience(s) (demographic, geographic, and psycho-graphic).

3. STRATEGIC ROLE OF THE ORGANIZATION

Historically, Bozeman CVB has focused primarily on Destination Marketing, working to increase awareness and visitation. While visitation continues to grow, recent research indicates Bozeman still needs to be discovered to a large population segment. Additionally, with travel opening to urban areas and international travel, there will be more competition among Western states. Therefore, it is important to continue marketing Bozeman as a leisure destination.

However, in our recent Resident Sentiment Survey, our organization will also put resources toward Destination Management and Destination Stewardship to educate visitors about safety, responsibility, and the Montana way of life when recreating in our area. Through local partnerships, we create content around responsible recreation and act as the marketing arm for united messaging, including "Outside Kind" and our "Be Good to Bozeman" campaign.

Bozeman DMO will continue considering local and Montana resident sentiment and implement best practices to maintain our natural resources.

DEMOGRAPHIC AND PSYCHOGRAPHIC TARGETS

*NOTE: We are waiting for the results of our Visitor Profile from Destination Analysts. Target markets may change based on the data.

Outdoor Adventure Seekers: People showing interest in skiing/snowboarding, national parks, hiking, fly fishing, adventure travel, and camping. These outdoor-oriented travelers are high-potential visitors. (Montana Brand Exploration Study, 2016.)

Western Culture Seekers: Western culture has broad appeal. Outfitters and guides accounted for the second-highest expenditure in Gallatin County in 2019, reaching almost $150,000,000. (ITRR Nonresident Visitor Expenditures by Location, Gallatin County.) In addition, the television show Yellowstone has increased awareness of the area and added to this demographic.

Winter Enthusiasts: With two alpine ski areas, a plethora of Nordic and snowshoe trails, plus vast snowmobiling terrain, Bozeman is an ideal fit for the winter enthusiast, particularly those with a high interest in cold season activities. (Montana Brand Exploration Study, 2016.)

Families: Findings from Destination Analysts Montana Brand Exploration Survey, 2016, identified Family Travelers as a high-value segment indicating that they index high on outdoor psychographics, have high incomes, and would expect to spend more and stay longer in the state than other travelers.

Older Couples w/ No Kids: A segment we continue to see emerging is the over-55 married couple. This segment has a more flexible schedule, disposable income, and an appetite for adventure. They still seek the ease of travel and the comforts they expect in larger markets, but they are drawn to National Parks as bucket list destinations, including Yellowstone.

OTHER TARGET MARKETS

Film: With state incentives working to encourage filmmakers to bring their work to Montana, we welcome the opportunity to collaborate with the Montana Film Office whenever possible.

Conferences and Meetings: As our hotels expand, we gain capacity for conferences and meetings.

Sports Tournaments and Events: Working in collaboration with the Gallatin Valley Tournament Committee and the Gallatin Valley TBID, we focus on statewide and regional tournaments inside and outside the Montana High School Association. We are also working with local hotels on room guarantees in hopes of hosting more tournaments and playoff games.

Tour Groups: DARYL, are you doing this again?: Bozeman DMO will participate in IPW in Orlando, sharing a booth with other Montana delegates. This allows us to meet with 44 shared appointments, and with international travel opening up, we expect increased interest in our area. We will also attend IMEX, the largest trade show in North America for the meeting and events industry.

Destination Management and Destination Stewardship

Bozeman Residents and Business Owners: Educating our local population about the positive economic outcomes of visitation.

Visitors to Bozeman: Educate those visiting Bozeman about trail etiquette, safety, and resource preservation across various outdoor activities.

1. Measure resident sentiment from direct impacts of tourism on daily life.
2. Identify pain points of residents as well as strengths and opportunities.
3. Understand resident sentiment toward working in the local tourism/hospitality industries.

In total, 940 completed surveys were collected between November 30, 2022 – January 3, 2023. The survey questionnaire was deployed through PRIME / Visit Bozeman's owned channels.

Key Findings:

- Higher housing prices, plus increased crowds and traffic, drive in-state travel costs up for residents.
- Tourists don't treat Bozeman or Montana with respect.
- While tourism is generally perceived to be important to the state and Bozeman's economy, there is widespread disagreement that tourism decreases the cost of living (83%) or that tourism reduces their taxes (68%).

3c. What are your emerging markets?

EMERGING MARKETS

Emerging Geographic Markets:
Canada and the Asian Pacific Rim

Emerging Psychographic Markets:

Entertainment Seekers: The Elm, a new music venue, opened in 2021, bringing in a wide array of musical talent several times per week. In addition, The Rialto, Brick Breeden Fieldhouse, Ellen Theatre, Emerson Cultural Center, and the Willson Auditorium all bring in top-notch national, regional, and local music, theater, dance, and comedy.

International Travelers: Canada and the Asian Pacific Rim have traditionally been good markets for Bozeman. However, Yellowstone has set records without the Asian market, and with pent-up demand for the past two years, we expect these markets to return.
